

Trip Report - Peru to Ecuador Through the Back Door

By Linda and Chuck, s/v Jacaranda

August 14 - August 21, 2013

Overview -

The entry into Ecuador from Peru through The Back Door is a little travelled route. Cuenca is the second most important and beautiful colonial city in Ecuador

Itinerary: San Ignacio (1 night), Vilcabamba (2 days), Cuenca (4 days)

PEDRO RUIZ

We thought we would go from Chacahapoyas to Pedro Ruiz to have to spend the night here and were told this is the best place to stay in the area; we didn't stay overnight here because we visited Huembo Hummingbird Reserve instead and left for the Back Door Journey from here.

SAN IGNACIO

Town in the middle of a coffee producing region. The best place to stay overnight on the Back Door journey.

Gran Hotel San Ignacio - about the only game in town

VILCABAMBA

Hotel/Restaurant

Hosteria and Restaurante Izhcayluma, 2 km south of town, off the highway a short walk uphill from the town

www.izhcayluma.com

Beautiful place!

Great restaurant with german specialites and ecuadorian food served in an open air setting.

Double with private bath, incl. breakfast - $35/night

Has a bar and swimming pool

French restaurant in town

CUENCA

A UNESCO World Heritage Site (1999), Cuenca is an outstanding example of a planned inland Spanish colonial town. The successful fusion of the different societies and cultures of Latin America is symbolized in a striking manner by the layout and townscape of Cuenca.

A strong concentration of vernacular architecture is located along the River Tomebanba (el Barranco) that defines the boundaries of the historic town on the south side. It is also in this sector that the site of Pumapungo is located (Puma Gate) in the heart of the Inca town of Tomebamba, and that of Todos Santos (All Saints) where the vestiges corresponding to Canari, Inca and Spanish cultures have been unearthed by archaeologists.

Tours

Bus City Tour - www.cotratudossa.com

Tel. 288-35-64

Catch it in front of the old cathedral (Catedral del Sagrario, Luis Cordero y Sucre). 2 hour tour.

So much to see that the tour guide couldn't keep up with a bilingual translation and since we were the only gringos on the bus, we told her it wasn't necessary to do the english version so we just relied on our spanish. Bus up to the Turi Mirador was worth the money because it was so far outside the center - if the tour had only been within the old center, it would not have been. It was a Sunday and there was nothing open, no people around, so this was the best activity for the day. Generally, we find bus tours very unsatisfying except for a general orientation and overview if the locale is large and extends over a large area. The bus interior was very cool - all wood.

Hotels

Casa Ordoñez

Great location within a few blocks of the main square; nice breakfast.

This is an old home that has been remodeled into a hotel - owned by the Ordoñez family for centuries. Alberto, the son, is supposed to be incredibly gracious and helpful. Unfortunately, he was away when we stayed there and his other family (sister Inez) and staff were nice enough but offered no special help. It appears this hotel got such a high ranking on Tripadvisor because of Alberto. While nice, we were not overly impressed with this hotel. I would like to stay in Hotel Victoria next time.

Mansion Alcazar - Calle Bolivar 12-55 y Tarqi

The most luxurious charm and elegance! A lot of true class.

Great location. Sandra, the reception, was over the top friendly and helpful. She even made reservations for us one night at another restaurant when we arrived there and the excellent Casa Alonzo restaurant was booked (see Restaurants below)

Rates include breakfast, English tea service, wifi and taxes (22%)

Double - $213.50

Single - $128.10

Garden Suite - $280.60

Hotel Victoria - Calle Larga 6-93, in the Barranco District

07 - 2827401

Beautiful historic building; liked the area near a nice plaza with a cafe where we had coffee, overlooking the river, on Calle Larga - an artsy part of town also near many of the museums and very near the archeological ruins.

I took a look at the rooms when we had lunch in their El Jardin Restaurant (see Restaurants below) - the rooms looked wonderful with views of the river; staff was very very nice.

Double w/breakfast - $75

DO NOT stay at Hostal Villa de Rosario where some friends who had a disagreement with the owners were physically attacked. Stay away!

Restaurants

Cafe Eucalyptus - Gran Colombia 9-41

Described as a "hot" bar but not so crowded when we went for dinner. Very nice and comfortable courtyard dining. Good food.

Raymipampa - on main square - Benigno Malo 8-59

Highly recommended several times but we didn't go here.

La Fornace - Borrero 8-29 y Sucre

Italian gelateria-cafeteria

Good pizza; excellent chocolate ice cream (cone is $1)

Casa Alonzo Restaurant (in Mansion Alcazar)

Excellent!! Need reservations. One of the best meals I have had in South America! The food was outstanding; service impeccable (the chef also came out to greet all the diners); in a wonderfully elegant setting.

Dinner for one - (appetizers and dessert) - $50.50 - misticanza salad, soup, lamb chops, sliced strawberry dessert.

El Jardin (in Hotel Victoria)

Very lovely - food is very good and the setting is very nice in an elevated "greenhouse" overlooking the garden and river. The beautiful menus were all handpainted (nice touch).

Sector San Pedro de los Olivos, km. 10 on the El Descanso-Gualaceo highway

This are the highest quality award-winning ikat textiles to buy - Sr. Jimenez's work has been purchased by the president and can be found in the presidential palace. Visit their family compound to meet his wife and see the looms, weaving technique and dyeing process explained. The large open compound looks like a rustic museum in itself. There is a showroom on the top floor but I poked around in a dark storage area downstairs to find more selections. They take credit cards.

Gualaceo Mercado - Go to the stalls on the second floor and eat the famous "hornado" - pieces of pork with crispy skin. Also the tortillas de choclo (pancakes made with rough corn flour).

La Casa de la Makana - $170 for Ikat textiles

Workshop, home, and showroom for exquisite Ikat textiles

Prepared, dyed, and woven in the traditional way

Jimenez has earned many awards and their textiles were purchased by the President and are in the Presidential Palace in Quito
